

sending a feedback to the security device if the pre-determined support group approves or denies access to the item to the requesting user; or changing a setting relating to access for the item for the requesting user.

* * * * *